Wrap Up

São Paulo was a great trip. We shared the gospel in the streets and in people's homes. We talked to three groups of kids and the puppets told them about God's love.

We have shared some of our stories from this trip and tried to give you an inkling of what it was like. There are so many stories and experiences that they don't fit into this format. But it is the people we work with that we remember the most. People like:

- The 19 year old interpreter that was paired with Ginger, who had taught herself English and has ambitions of being a bilingual physician.
- A family from the church that hosted us at their apartment Sunday afternoon at the end of the week.
- The pastor's wife - who doubled as the secretary for the Project - who never stopped working. I nicknamed her "Red Bull"
- The driver who could best be described as "aggressive".
- Sharing the Lord's Supper with the church on the last Sunday.

- A 13 year old that we had gotten to know during the week that was moved to tears when we left.
- A pastor who said, “I learned a lot this week. I need to be more intentional about sharing the Gospel.”

We talk about numbers - because it is the only way we (as humans) have to quantify our efforts. It’s not about numbers - it’s about lives changed.

At our church, 305 heard the Gospel and there were 77 professions of faith.

Total for the 20 churches that participated in the project: 3689 heard the Gospel and there were 872 professions of faith.

Next stop: Papua New Guinea.

Saying goodbye from São Paulo.
